

4 GEORGIAN JEWEL Symmetry plays a starring role in this dining room, above left, in a Neo-Georgian Sydney home redecorated by Stewart Horton. To maintain a classic yet fresh feel, Horton used Dulux Filippa on the walls. The colour is echoed in the custom-made rug by Designer Rugs and chair upholstery in a William Morris fabric from Sanderson. Horton & Co Interior Design; (02) 4929 2232 or www.hortonandco.com.au.

5 FULL CIRCLE Round and elliptical tables are perfect for small spaces as they allow easy circulation and 'togetherness' at the table. This fit out (above) by Hecker Guthrie features a low-hung pendant light to create intimacy. Hecker Guthrie; (03) 9421 1644 or www.heckerguthrie.com.au.

6 FAMILY AFFAIR Melbourne decorator Melanie Turner designed a dining zone in her home (left) that's big enough to accommodate two tables, when needed, for extended family. Floating cabinetry helps to demarcate the zone. "It acts as a servery, which is great when lots of people are over," says Melanie. Recipes for Design; www.recipesfordesign.com.au.
